Delta Math Work Paper

Name: _____

The page contains a large grid for math work. It is defined by a single vertical line that runs from the top of the page to the bottom, and two horizontal lines that cross the vertical line. The horizontal lines are positioned approximately one-third and two-thirds of the way down the page. This layout creates four rectangular sections: a top-right section, a middle-left section, a middle-right section, and a bottom-left section.
